BOARD GIVES ENTHUSIASTIC "OKAY" ON NEW GRADE SCHOOL

Members of the Gettysburg Joint School Board gave an enthusiastic "okay" to the new Keefeauver Elementary School building Thursday afternoon after a two-hour tour of inspection of the general contractor's work on the interior.

Most of the work of other contractors on the interior is nearly complete but similar inspections will have to be made later of the electrical, plumbing and heating work before the architects, the Buchart Engineering Corporation, can approve final payments to the contractors by the Gettysburg School Authority.

The new building, the largest and newest grade school building in this county, is being completed well ahead of schedule. It is being paid for by a $750,000 bond issue sold last year by the Gettysburg School Authority.

On Traded Land

Members of the School Authority, representatives of the general contractor, O. H. Hostetter, Hanover, and Russell Horn, secretary-treasurer of the Buchart firm, accompanied the directors on their tour of the modern, 20-room building that stretches along a re-made hilltop east of the high school campus on land traded from the federal government.

Every section of the structure that can handle 600 boys and girls was visited on the tour—from the boiler room where huge furnaces have been installed to storage rooms.

Possibly the most comment was elicited by the attractive pastel shades of paint used to decorate the classrooms, cafeteria, auditorium and the main corridor running the entire length of the building.

STATE JAYCEES, CONFAB - BOUND WILL STOP HERE

Approximately 200 representatives of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce, enroute to a national Jaycee convention at Atlanta, Ga., will stop here June 18, the local Junior Chamber of Commerce learned at its meeting Thursday night at the fire engine house, E. Middle St.

Plans were outlined for a "Welcome to Gettysburg" program while the state Jaycee group is here. They will be traveling in 50 identical cars and Lincoln Square parking will be blocked off for the duration of their stop to permit the cars to park as a unit. The Gettysburg Travel Council will join with the Jaycees in preparing a welcome for the group. John Riddle, superintendent of the Gettysburg National Cemetery and member of both local organizations, will be chairman of the committee in charge.

Reports by Lyndale Brandon, chairman in charge, indicated that plans are well advanced for the annual "Teen-age Road-E-O" to be held by the local Junior Chamber in May. At the "road-e-o" young drivers compete over a closed course for prizes as the best auto drivers.

Richard E. Bruce, extension chairman, reported on the charter night program held Wednesday at Chambersburg for the newly organized Chambersburg Junior Chamber of Commerce which was founded by the Gettysburg group.

$1,300 Damage In Car-Truck Collision

Damage totaled $1,300 but no one was injured this morning about 8 o'clock when a Cities Service tank truck and a car sideswiped on the Hanover Highway a mile and a half east of York Springs. State police from Gettysburg investigated.

Edgar Leer, York Springs R. D., is reported to have driven on the highway from a lane of Clyde May and made a left turn east on Route 94. The truck, operated by John Sharp, Belleville, Pa., also was headed east.

The car was sideswiped but the truck driver in an effort to avoid the collision swung his truck and it smashed a section of guard-rail, coming to a stop astride the guard rail on the brink of a 10-foot bank. Damage to Leer's car was placed at about $300 and to the truck at $1,000.

TESTIFY ABOUT DRINKING NIGHT OF FATAL CRASH

HARRISBURG—Five undergraduates of Gettysburg College, three of them minors, told a Liquor Control board examiner Thursday that they had purchased beer without question in a Hanover veterans' club to which none of them belonged on the night a companion was killed in a automobile crash.

A board examiner, Albert B. Miller, took under advisement a citation against the club, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Home Association of Hanover Post 2506, after listening to the students—three of them minors—tell how they were served beer on the night of January 23.

No questions were asked of them, the students testified, or of Anthony DiPalma, 20, of Denville, N. J., who later died in a crash of his automobile while enroute back to the Gettysburg campus. DiPalma, it was brought out, held a membership card in the name of Curt C. Blunck.

It was not developed whether the Blunck name was a pseudonym or that of another member.

Crashed Into Tree, House

DiPalma died, state police said, when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his vehicle, which crashed into a tree and a dwelling. Deputy Attorney General Spencer B. Hill said the club was being cited for sales to minors, permitting minors to frequent the establishment, and sales to non-members.

Two of the students testified they simply walked into the club through a side door. They said they were asked no questions concerning their age when the strode to the bar to order drinks.

Fishermen Trying For Trout Today

Adams County fishermen may be out in smaller numbers as trout season opens today, judging by reports from various centers which provide fishing licenses.

County Treasurer Jacob Apple said 205 licenses have been issued by his office so far this year, compared to 245 up to the opening of the trout season last year. Only 25 secured licenses Thursday at his office and no one was in for a license at the Court House this morning.

Some business places which also issue the licenses reported "as many as ever," with one agency reporting more than 600 licenses issued, "including a great number yesterday." Some other stores reported a decline in the usual number of licenses issued. One store had only one applicant for a license Thursday.

Abraham Lincoln Died Of Assassin's Bullet Wounds 90 Years Ago Today

Abraham Lincoln, fourteenth President of the United States, died 90 years ago today. Death of the Great Emancipator came at 7:22 a.m. April 15, 1865. He had been shot the night before while seated in a box in Ford's theater, Washington.

Most of us are familiar with all the horrible details of his assassination, the first President to be murdered. However, few of our readers have ever had an opportunity to read how Gettysburg newspapers "covered" the story of his shooting and the long hours he lingered, unconscious, before he breathed his last.

Below are some excerpts from the files of the two Gettysburg papers published at that time.

STARTLING INTELLIGENCE!

THE PRESIDENT SHOT AND MORTALLY WOUNDED! "Washington, April 14:—The President of the United States was shot while attending Ford's Theater tonight. It is feared that the wounds are mortal. "President Lincoln and his wife, together with other friends, this evening visiting Ford's Theater for

Here And There News Collected At Random

The following editorial (which is self-explanatory) is reprinted from The Philadelphia Inquirer of April 11:

"On the wall of the Twelfth and Pine Streets police station the plaque read: 'In memory of David H. Wiley, Patrolman, 3d District; Killed on duty April 10, 1932.'"

"A few feet away stood the man who had killed Patrolman Wiley. He was Charles A. Terry. He was awaiting arraignment, after being caught in a safe-cracking job.

"Why was Terry free—after he killed a cop?" "Because our Pennsylvania Board of Pardons leans over backward to reward, with paroles, commutations and other clemency, the thugs who shoot down the protectors of law-abiding citizens."

"Terry had killed Patrolman Wiley in cold blood. Wiley was approaching Terry's get-away car when the latter shot him down before he could even speak. That was in 1932.

"Terry has come a long way since then. He was convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to the electric chair. Our system of 'soft justice' got him a bridge just south of Biglerville. (Continued On Page 8)

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS 'TOM THUMB' WEDDING

A large and enthusiastic audience was present at the "Tom Thumb" wedding and Bridal Pageant presented Thursday evening in Christ Chapel, college campus, for the benefit of the Woman's League of Gettysburg College. Proceeds totaled more than $400 for the Fine Arts Department of the college.

As the audience waited for the wedding procession to begin, a solo, "O Promise Me," was sung by Miss Jane Elker, dressed in a yellow taffeta gown with a full ruffled skirt. She was accompanied by Miss Lois Kadel who was piano accompanist throughout the evening.

"Guests" took their places, one by one, in the choir stalls in the chapel sanctuary. They were ushered in by Ronny Carver, Larry Wickerham, Johnny Bender, Eddie Thomas, Donald Williams and Billy Andrews, all dressed in wedding formal. The children impersonated movie stars, politicians, royalty and local leaders.

FIRE CHIEFS SEEK LARGER TRANSMITTER

The Adams County Fire Chiefs' Association Thursday night reiterated its belief that a 250-watt radio transmitter should be secured by Civil Defense and county funds to serve as a central station for the CD-Firemen's radio network in the county.

A resolution calling on the county commissioners to secure matching funds and provide the new transmitter for installation at Gettysburg, replacing its present 60-watt transmitter, was passed at the March meeting.

Later there had been some discussion of the need for a transmitter of that size and whether it might not be better to install several smaller central stations in the county.

Following a discussion in which it was held that the 250-watt transmitter would have the power to reach every section at all times, the group voted to reaffirm its request for a 250-watt transmitter.

"There was a rush towards the Presidential box, when cries were heard: 'Stand back! Give him air! Has anyone stimulants?'

"On a hasty examination, it was found that the President had been shot through the head, above and back of the temple bone, and that some of the brain was oozing out.

"He was removed to a private house opposite the theater, and the Surgeon General of the army and other surgeons were sent for to attend to his condition.

"On examination of the private box, blood was discovered on the back of the cushioned rocking chair in which the President had been sitting; also, on the partition and on the floor. A common single-barreled pocket pistol was found on the carpet.

"A military guard was placed in front of the private residence to which the President had been conveyed.

"An immense crowd gathered in front of it all deeply anxious to learn the condition of the President. It had previously been announced that the wound was mortal. (Continued On Page 6)

NATIONAL GUARD UNIT READY FOR SURPRISE TEST

Gettysburg's unit of the National Guard is ready for "Operation Minuteman," the nationwide test alert which may come at any time. 2nd Lt. Robert Harner, public information officer for Howitzer Company, 2nd Battalion, 104th Armored Cavalry Regiment, said that the test "may come within a month." The exact time is to be decided by national officials.

When the alarm is sounded, the 88 men and 6 officers of the company will report for duty, ready for any assignment. "We expect our men to be in uniform and ready to carry out any orders within an hour," Harner said.

"Some of our men live as far away as Chambersburg and Hanover. We have made arrangements with radio station WGCT and Western Union to aid in notifying them. We are hoping for the cooperation of the employers of our men, in letting them off from their jobs for this alert."

To Test Guard Harner emphasized that this was to be a test of the National Guard unit, and not of the general public. "This will not be like an air raid alert. Sirens will not be sounded and nothing will be done to alarm the public. The alert is for training purposes only, and to test the speed and efficiency with which the guard can be mobilized in case of an emergency."

"Operation Minuteman," which will be staged by the various states simultaneously, will go into effect on word from the chief of the National Guard Bureau, who will dispatch an alert order from the Pentagon to the adjutant general of each state and territory. The adjutant general will pass the order down to the commander of each local unit.

COUNTY POLIO UNIT WILL PAY FOR MATERIALS OF INOCULATION

The Adams County Unit of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Thursday night voted to pay all costs in connection with the inoculation of the Salk vaccine to 2,400 Adams County First and Second grade youngsters.

Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, County chairman, said decision to assume the cost was reached following a check of the funds available in the polio account here and the amounts received from the recent March of Dimes drive.

"It appears that we had more money available than we thought, and thus there is no reason why the county unit cannot assume the entire cost for needles, syringes, gauze, etc., that will be needed for the inoculations. The vaccine is being made available free by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to the first and second grade youngsters.

"Because we are able to make this decision, the sums already donated by various local organizations to help defray necessary expenses for the vaccination will be returned to them, and we thank them very much. All of the organizations have been more than generous year after year with the polio drive, and because of that we feel that they have donated enough up to the present time.

Have Reserve Fund

"From each March of Dimes drive half of the amount collected goes to the National Foundation and half is retained locally. The national organization set up the research program for treatment and for the Salk vaccine, and from the

CONSTITUTION IS ADOPTED BY YOUNG FARMERS

A constitution and bylaws presented by a committee were adopted by the Upper Adams Young Farmers Association at a meeting Thursday evening in Biglerville High School.

President Myles Starner read the new constitution and the bylaws developed by a committee including Norman Blocher, Donald Weaver, Keith Rex, Ronald Rice, Fred Raffensperger, Fred Oshman and Paul Tulley.

A panel discussion on poultry, led by Cecil Snyder, agricultural education teacher at Biglerville High School, and including leading poultrymen in the Upper Adams area will be a feature of the May 12 meeting of the York Farmers at the Biglerville High School, President Starner announced.

For the educational part of the program, the organization divided into two units, Harold Steiner, entomologist for Knouse farms, was in charge of a section devoted to fruit. Frank MacFarland, Baltimore, agriculturalist for the Miller Chemical and Fertilizer Co., and Russell Rouzer, plant manager for the Hanover plant of the company, led a discussion on control of plant pests and weeds. MacFarland held that no one insecticide at present can control alfalfa weevil, spittle bug, alfalfa leaf hopper and aphids. However, a new material, "Endrin," is "showing up as very promising in control of all four in experiments being carried out now."

Rouzer told the group a new chemical, "Natrane," is showing much promise for chemical control of weeds in tomato fields. Present chemical weed killers cannot be used in tomatoes.

convention to be held April 29, 30 and 31 at Reading were Magnus Flaws, John Crow, Donald Uber and Robert Fryling. Also scheduled to attend the session are Donald Becker, past president of the local Jaycees who is a candidate for regional vice president, Francis Small and Richard Bruce.

May Be On TV
There is a possibility that Gettysburg will appear in a television program as a result of the local Jaycees entry in a national Junior Chamber contest last year. In that event, the scrap book entered by Gettysburg won second place in the state. Plans then were for only one town from each state to be represented in the planned TV program.

At Thursday's meeting a letter from the national committee in charge of that program was read stating that a change was being made in the format of the proposed television program and there is again a possibility that Gettysburg may be represented, if, as now planned, several towns from each state will be included.

Approval was given to plans to aid the Adams County Fruit Growers Association in its program of staging a Fruit Blossom Festival this year. Among activities scheduled for the Jaycees is the placing of a sign directing the attention of motorists to the blossom tour.

Thomas Metz was introduced as a new member. The next meeting of the Jaycees will be held April 28. President John Crow presided.

U.S. NAVY BAND PLAYS MONDAY AT FAIRGROUND

The United States Navy Band, under the direction of Commander Charles Brendler, will present a concert in Memorial Auditorium at the South Mountain Fair Grounds, Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock under arrangements made by the Upper Adams Joint School system.

A charge of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students will be made with the school system hoping in that way to defray most of the cost for the concert. School children from throughout this section have been invited to attend. A number of school districts, including Littlestown and York Springs, plan to provide bus transportation to give their youngsters an opportunity to hear the band, described as one of the most outstanding military musical organizations.

Officials of the Upper Adams system said the concert was arranged "to give the youngsters and older people of the county an opportunity to hear this fine musical organization as it begins a six weeks concert tour of the eastern U.S."

The first concert will be at the South Mountain Fairgrounds Monday afternoon. From there the band will go to Elizabethtown College for a performance Monday evening. The remainder of the spring concert tour will be held through Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine. The band also plans a fall concert. Last year only one tour was made, during which 72 engagements were filled in 17 states.

Commander Brendler said the band was established as the official United States Navy Band by action of congress in 1935. The band is composed of nearly 100 members "each of whom could take his place with the world's greatest symphony orchestras," according to the band director. The band combines both a complete symphony orchestra and a "swingphonette" section for the latest "hit" tunes.

HS MUSICIANS PLACED IN BAND

MILLERSTOWN, Pa. (P)—Some 249 high school musicians were seated today for the annual music festival of the Southern District of the Pennsylvania Music Educators Assn.

The seatings followed tryouts yesterday for concerts to be given by the group, representing 80 high schools, tonight and tomorrow night.

Band directors for the events will be Dr. Edwin F. Goldman and Ralph Satz, both of New York. Tonight's concert will be divided into four sections. Host bandmaster Barner S. Swartz of Greenwood Joint High School will lead the National Anthem; PMEA President R. Leslie Saunders, Lebanon, will direct the opening march; Satz will conduct the first half of the concert; and Dr. Goldman the remainder.

High schools represented in the festival are from Adams, Cumberland, Fulton, Perry, Juniata, Lancaster, York, Dauphin, Lebanon and Franklin counties.

U.S. Seizes Pills At Cancer Clinic

PITTSBURGH (P)—U.S. Atty. John W. McIlvaine today ordered government seizure of additional pills at the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Portage, Cambria County.

McIlvaine said he believes some 235,000 black pills and "unknown number of black and red pills" were still being dispensed to patients at the clinic.

He said he believed the pills had been repackaged into envelopes and labeled merely "Hoxsey Cancer Clinic."

Earlier today, McIlvaine filed a second libel suit against the controversial clinic charging that pills given to patients were misbranded. The suit also was against written and printed matter accompanying the drugs, McIlvaine said.

4-H Clubs Have Over Half Their Fund Goal

The drive for $575 being conducted by the Adams County 4-H Clubs has passed the halfway mark, Fred H. Attinger, associate county farm agent and treasurer for the drive, announced today.

A total of $307 has been contributed by individuals and organizations toward the fund which will provide leadership training, day camps, awards and other materials and benefits for the more than 500 young people in the county who are members of 4-H Clubs.

Donations for the drive may be sent to Attinger at the Adams County Agricultural Extension Office, Court House, Gettysburg.

BLOSSOM TOUR FOR GUESTS AT COUNTY HOME

Guests at the Adams County Home will be offered the annual Apple Blossom tour of the orchard sections of the county during the first week of May, the Adams County Home Auxiliary decided Thursday afternoon at its meeting at the county home.

No date was set for the tour, which the auxiliary says is greatly enjoyed by the elderly guests of the home, some of whom worked in the orchards in their youth. Development of the blossoms will be the basis for the determination of the day on which the trip will be made. Mrs. Lloyd W. Kleinfelter, Biglerville, was named chairman of the committee arranging the trip. Light refreshments will be served the guests on the bus trip.

Mrs. Mervin Murray reported that a toaster and four lawn benches approved for purchase last month have been bought and are now at the county home. She also announced that meetings of the sewing committee have been cancelled until next fall, because of the summer activities.

The Mothers Class of St. James Lutheran Church provided the March birthday party at the home. Mrs. Ira Henderson reported. Ten members of the class were present and served ice cream and cup cakes to all guests and gave baskets of fruit and candy and a small birthday cake to each guest having a birthday during the month.

The Dorcas Society of Christ Lutheran Church visited March 21 and provided gifts for the sewing committee and homemade cookies for all guests.

The Methodist group which provides the services at the home one Sunday each month, during March treated the guests to bananas, oranges and cookies after the regular religious service. Visits to the home were made in March by the local seminarians and students of St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held May 12 when final plans will be made for visiting day to be held June 25. Mrs. Henderson presided at the meeting in the absence of the president and vice president.

Had Wrong Safe In Wrong Office

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Apparent seeking a $300,000 Naval Hospital payroll, two masked burglars were surprised today by a girl employee while they were working on the wrong safe in the wrong office. The money was locked up safely elsewhere.

The burglars fled through a window as 21-year-old Eleanor Grove, a civilian employee, ran into the corridor screaming. She walked into the office and saw one of the men kneeling before a safe, hammering at it with a crowbar.

Two youths were arrested by police shortly afterward. They were identified as Charles Brooks, and Raymond Fluellen, each 17. Police Sgt. Albert Myers said Miss Grove identified Brooks as the man she saw battering the safe.

MANILA (P)—Deaths in the seven-hour fire at Bacoled City, central Philippines, rose to 7 today with 98 persons injured, the Manila Mirror reported.

and we have been fighting ever since, to try to preserve our independence. We have been fighting Russia, to the north of Turkey, since 1930 — 55 years of Hot War and 270 years of Cold War."

Referring to Turkey's recent treaties of alliance with Pakistan and Iraq, General Menguc said "this will help to strengthen Middle Eastern defenses against the Russians." The possibility of these forces being diverted by a new outbreak of the war against Israel, he discounted as "just propaganda, on both sides." He commanded the Turkish armies on the eastern frontier in 1952-1953.

"The Turkish people admire the American people very much. You had your war for independence, we had ours. The young people all learn English. I am old man, no can study."

Met Eisenhower
The general is short and stocky, with dark features and with sparse hair. He said that he first joined the Turkish Army in 1914.

Turkey was allied with Germany and Austria in World War I, and the general saw his first action fighting the British. He participated in the Dardanelles campaign in 1915, when a British Expeditionary Force was driven from Gallipoli.

General Menguc saw something of World War II, even though Turkey was neutral. He was an observer in the North African campaign, in 1943, attached to the headquarters of several field commanders, among them Gen. George Patton and Gen. Mark Clark.

He met President Eisenhower, who commanded that campaign, and again in 1951 when Ike, as NATO commander, visited Istanbul. "He is a very dynamic person," said Gen. Menguc. "Good soldier, good politician. I understand he has a farm near here."

BRAIN SURGERY HELPS PATIENTS

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Two New York scientists described today the favorable intellectual and personality changes brought about by surgical removal of virtually half the brains of each of three mental patients.

Drs. Alexander Tolor and Adam Munz of the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center, said the patients, one male and two females between the ages of 15 and 16, all had a history of extreme nervous and mental disorders—mental retardation, uncontrollable seizures and behavioral difficulties.

The two speakers said their patients were given various tests before and after the operation and data indicated that "in severely retarded patients of this type, no loss in intellectual status occurs when an abnormally functioning cerebral hemisphere is removed . . . if anything, a slight but significant post operative gain in I.Q. may be anticipated."

Their remarks were made in an address prepared for delivery at the annual Eastern Psychological Assn. Convention.

CLEVELAND (P)—Attorneys for osteopath Samuel H. Sheppard, convicted of second degree murder in the bludgeoning of his wife, filed a motion today for a new trial on the basis of "newly discovered evidence."

Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin, who sentenced Sheppard to life imprisonment, tentatively set April 27 for a hearing on the motion.

PITTSBURGH (P)—Philadelphia Atty. Bernard Segal, chairman of the Federal Commission of Judicial and Congressional Salaries, called on Pennsylvania today to raise the pay of all its judges.

Segal said salaries of Pennsylvania jurists are "clearly inadequate" and do not permit them to maintain standards of living the community expects of them.

tile. Three-color combinations are used in each of the classrooms. In each room the gray tile flooring is brightened by various patterns of tile that blend with the wall decoration. Basic wall colors are primrose yellow, old rose, ivory and pilgrim gray. The trims are in empire green, fawn gray, cocoa brown and lime green. In the auditorium a blue trim with blue spruce contrast with redwood paneling to make one of the most attractive spots in the building. The stage walls are fiber gold trimmed in cream.

Seven hundred gallons of paint, in shades selected by Buchart's interior decorator and approved by the Planning Committee of the School board, have been used in the building.

The inspection started in the south end of the building where rooms are planned for the first three grades. At the southeast corner is a room equipped with radiant heat for possible use as a kindergarten. Each room in the south section has a toilet with small size fixtures and each room has a drinking fountain and a lavatory or wash bowl.

Each Room Has Heat Control
Standard equipment in each of the rooms in a green "blackboard" with the wall below it having a protective covering of tile that matches the floor; a large green "back" board, space at the rear of each room for pupils to hang their coats with an enclosed closet for the use of the teacher. Each room has its own heat control.

Every room is linked to a two-way inter-communication that has its controls in the principal's office.

The rooms are well-lighted with one wall of windows and eight ceiling fixtures in each of the regular classrooms. Two additional electrical outlets are provided in each room.

Modern Kitchen
The inspection tour went into the cafeteria and the tile and stainless steel kitchen painted in primrose yellow and swedish red. Gas stoves, dishwashers, electric vegetable peeler, slicing machine, freezers, refrigerators and pedal turn-ons for water spigots make it completely modern. The kitchen and cafeteria are in the center on the west side of the building, opposite the auditorium—all purpose room.

The 40x50 auditorium will seat over 300 and is located at the center of the building, just off the lobby on the east side of the building. Health room, principal's office, teachers' room and tiled toilets were checked.

AP News Report Received At Same Moment Around World

NEW YORK (P)—The Associated Press news report now is received at almost the same moment in all parts of the inhabited world, AP General Manager Frank J. Starzel said today.

He said this "simultaneous and virtually instantaneous reception" of news became a reality the past year by completion of the AP's globe-girdling system of radioteletype circuits.

"As the operator in New York punches a story, one letter is printed in Tokyo, Manila, London and other points, almost before the next letter enters the transmitter," Starzel said in his annual report.

32,000 Words Daily

The report, covering all phases of the news cooperative's operations, was sent to AP members in advance of their annual meeting here April 25. President Eisenhower will address their luncheon.

York Springs

Keeps Standards High
"Developed with startling effectiveness its new features copy," "Extended the U.S. wirephoto network to 35 additional members (total of 315—one-third larger than two years ago);

"Above all else—maintained its high standards for objective and honest reporting that won renewed respect wherever it is known."

Starzel cited also development of the AP's facsimile method of network picture reception, known as photofax. He noted an increasing number of newspaper members are using it as a means of cutting costs. The photofax picture is received ready for engraving.

Today's Talk

FLOWER WORLD
God must have had in mind a great mission for flowers, for He made so many, and made them so perfectly. It has been said that angels are perfect. That's why they live in Heaven! Perhaps God created flowers as a tribute to angels, for flowers are perfect.

Every time I meet with a new flower I marvel at its beauty and perfection. Each one is in such balance, as to form and color. Man has copied the designs and colors of flowers and made them to serve such a variety of occasions. In a home they brighten it, radiating beauty and fragrance.

When the spring of love arrives, the first thought of the lover is to send a silent message of flowers. And when sorrow comes, to the sad we send our tribute of love and understanding. Its silent voice is enough.

We are familiar with so many of our domestic flowers, but we are constantly running into those with which we have never become acquainted. In Honolulu I viewed orchids blooming in many gardens, and in green houses there saw some of the most beautiful varieties I have ever seen. Recently I saw at the Miami flower show white orchids that could well be worn by angels. They were so exquisite I am sure that any woman wearing such a perfect bit of beauty would feel like an angel!

I can understand the enthusiasm of gardeners and flower lovers. I have talked with many of them and they even talk with their flowers. It has been written of the famous Dr. George Washington Carver that he actually did "talk with flowers." He experienced something spiritual in them. I believe that he was right.

I once had a gardener who talked of plants as "he" and "she." He personalized and endowed them with the love that he owned. Something of what we are going with the flowers that we send to others.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Doors"
Protected, 1955, George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

FLOWERS ARE SENSITIVE
Get to know them, one by one. Gardening is a trade. Roses like the morning sun; Violets the shade.

Flowers have habits, just as we. Like, dislike and mood. Some will most particular be over drink and food.

Some are sensitive and take slight at lack of care. Others no complaint will make left untended there.

Some are sturdy and will stand straight 'gainst fence or wall. Flowers are much like people and need patience, spring to fall. Copyright, 1955, by Edgar A. Guest

COURT PONDERES HOW, WHEN TO END RACE ISSUE

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Other revolutions may have been hatched in cellars but one of the biggest in American history—a social revolution—is being worked out in the Supreme Court.

There was nothing clandestine about this one: The nine justices made their decision—that racial segregation in public schools must end—in full view and in accordance with the Constitution.

So far their decision is merely that. Now they must decide how, and when, their ruling is to become a reality in every state which has had some form of separation between white and Negro schools.

There is no indication when the court will lay down the ground rules for ending two school systems. It has a triple problem and all it can hope for is that its answers are wise:

1. To find a way which will compel the states to end segregation.
2. To do it in a way which, while integration is being carried out, will keep conflicts between the races to a minimum.

More Time In South
3. To do it in a way which will preserve, for the benefit of the country, respect for the court and its authority through compliance by the states.

The justices themselves know they are under the microscope of the nation. They may take a longer view than the Negroes' lawyers who want a single school system no later than the fall of 1956.

The court may give the South more time than that. But it cannot offer a solution which drags out desegregation too long without leaving itself open to severe criticism outside the South.

But this is not a one-way street. The Southern states themselves, knowing there is a limit to how much they can defy the court and constitutional processes without endangering the country, are under national observation, too.

The story of integration may be so far from being over that it is only really beginning. The reaction and compliance of the Southern states, and the people in them, still have to be revealed as integration is put in motion.

SUGGESTS TWO FOR STATE JOBS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Dr. Arthur O. Hecker, clinical director at Friends Hospital, Philadelphia, today had the recommendation of Harry Shapiro, state health secretary, for appointment as superintendent at Emburyville State Hospital.

At the same time, Shapiro also recommended yesterday the appointment of Dr. Eleanor R. Wright as clinical director at the Chester County Institution.

Shapiro's suggestions went to the board of trustees of the hospital for action at its next meeting April 20.

The secretary said both doctors are "eminently fitted in background and experience for their respective positions."

Dr. Hecker would succeed Dr. John C. Urbatis who is "on loan" from Warren State Hospital as acting superintendent since the resignation of Dr. Jesse V. Cohen early in February.

Dr. Wright is staff psychiatrist at Friends Hospital.

Training Centers Are Being Planned

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader is considering the establishment of training centers to prepare unemployed citizens of Pennsylvania for positions in manufacturing industries, state Commerce Secretary John P. Robin said last night.

Robin's remarks were made in an address to the annual meeting of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission. Victor C. Diehm of Allentown was reelected president of the organization.

In his address, Robin outlined some of the plans announced earlier by the governor for relief of economically distressed parts of the state. Robin mentioned several times the need for local action by residents of the troubled areas.

He said the state might contribute as much as $55,000 annually for administration of such groups as the NEPIDC.

Poultry Will Get Bronchitis Vaccine

HARRISBURG (AP)—Dr. William L. Henning, state agriculture secretary, has granted permission to poultrymen to purchase and administer a vaccine to prevent infectious bronchitis.

Dr. Henning yesterday also continued permission for poultrymen to use vaccines to prevent fowl pox and New Castle disease.

The secretary said losses from the diseases have been running 20 per cent or more, costing poultrymen millions of dollars annually.

To use the vaccines, poultrymen must purchase them from licensed veterinarians or an approved biological producer licensed by the state Bureau of Animal Industry.

INDONESIA'S PROBLEMS ARE BASIC: WOMAN EDITOR SAYS

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

People in Indonesia don't worry about juvenile delinquency, hot-rodgers, marital psychology or hypertension. They're too busy solving the basic problems of food and shelter.

"You have so many problems here in America," says Mrs. Siti Ratni Rondonuwu, Indonesia's leading newspaperwoman. "You already have solved the problems of survival, so you have to find other problems. If we have a juvenile delinquency problem in Indonesia, we pay no attention to it. We don't have time."

Nyons Vs. Bare Legs
Mrs. Rondonuwu is winding up a four-month tour of the United States under the sponsorship of the State Department's international exchange service. As managing editor of the Indonesian National News and Fiction weekly, Siasat, in Jakarta, this young modern has found many things in America hard to understand. For example:

"I was told I must wear stockings in the United States. To go barelegged, as we do at home, was not considered correct. So I find that women here buy nyons so sheer that they look as if they had no stockings on at all. It is all very confusing."

Puzzled By Problems
Only since 1945 have women in Indonesia had a chance at careers and politics, says Gadis, but they're now going strong. There are a number of women in the government, several other women editors, and women in all the professions.

Another thing that puzzles her is all the talk about marriage problems in the United States. Says she:

"I read about marriage counselors and marriage classes. Psychiatrists seem to be always talking about the pitfalls of marriage. I don't understand. In Indonesia we just get married."

The U. S. Automobile Manufacturers Assn. estimates that the inadequacy of the present highway system involves a loss of three billion dollars a year to Americans.

GEORGE BACKS IKE IN DELAY ON ISLAND POLICY

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Backing President Eisenhower, Sen. George (D-Ga.) said last night the cause of peace would not be advanced by any public announcement on whether the United States would defend Quemoy and Matsu.

And George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, suggested the issue of whether those Chinese Nationalist off-shore islands should be defended has become a "football of politics."

The Democratic congressional leader's stand amounted to indirect criticism of such Republican senators as Knowland of California and Bridges of New Hampshire. Both GOP leaders have called for a declaration of the administration's intentions regarding Quemoy and Matsu.

Knows What Ike Will Do
George said he knows quite well what Eisenhower will do if and when he is faced with a decision whether to defend the off-shore islands.

"He will do what good men always do," George declared, his voice breaking with emotion. "He will go into his closet and, face to face with his God, make his decision."

"And I for one don't want to force his hand in making that decision."
The President has given no hint of his plans, but he does have the authorization of Congress to defend "related areas" in any general defense of Formosa against an assault by Red China.

George spoke out for Eisenhower's policy of no declaration in an off-the-cuff address to the Georgia Bankers Assn.

Sees General Attack
In his speech the veteran lawmaker:

1. Called anew for a top level conference of the United States, Great Britain and France with the Soviet Union. He declared he still believes "a high level conference among the chiefs of state might be productive of much good. I am not a defeatist."

2. Declared a "desperate situation" does exist in China, but perhaps it is most acute in Viet Nam (in Southeast Asia) rather than in the Formosa Strait.

3. Envisioned what he called the good possibility that Communist China will launch an attack against Formosa and the off-shore islands of Quemoy and Matsu simultaneously, instead of trying to conquer Quemoy and Matsu first.

INNOCENT MAN WILL RECEIVE $300 A MONTH

By JIM KLOBUCHAR
ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A man who went through 19 years of hurt and humiliation in Minnesota prisons will within a few weeks earn the final reward of a plodding justice.

Slender Leonard Hankins of Dawson Springs, Ky., will accept the first of $300 monthly pension checks. Minnesota's payment for the years of suffering it inflicted on an innocent man.

Hankins will accept it with gratitude, some disappointment and no bitterness.

"It's enough to live on," the 59-year-old Southerner said in a resonant drawl that carried no anger. "But I'm kind of disappointed that they couldn't have done more for me."

Payments Start Jan. 1
A bill providing Hankins with $300 a month the rest of his life has been passed by both houses of the Minnesota Legislature. When a number of other unrelated claims are settled by a conference committee, the bill goes to the governor. Hankins's payments would be retroactive to Jan. 1.

"I thank God that the legislature did as much for me as it did," Hankins said. "The only thing for me to do now is to put all of those terrible years behind me. I don't want to think of them."

"But I don't blame the people who sent me to prison. You forget all about that because it's so good to be a free man."

Hankins was pardoned in 1951, years after members of the Barker-Karpis gang, which held up the Third Northwestern Bank in

Unaware Of Plan To Unionize Cops

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Fraternal Order of Policemen, whose ranks include almost the entire Pennsylvania State Police force, says it is unaware of any effort to unionize state policemen.

Frank J. Topelski, state president of the group, said reports of efforts being made to organize the state patrol "indeed comes as a surprise."

"Although we recognize the right of the working man to join with his fellow workers in an organization," Topelski said yesterday in a statement, "the bylaws of this order do not permit our affiliation with any union."

The order claims membership of 14,000 police officials in the state, including about 1,800 of the 1,900 state policemen.

Sister Paid $10,000
Hankins won his release largely through the efforts of his sister, Mrs. Della Lowery, Jack MacKay, St. Paul correspondent for the Associated Press, and Sig Couch, a former Minneapolis detective. Mrs. Lowery was granted $10,000 by the legislators as partial recompense for money spent in gaining her brother's release.

Hankins within a few days will return to Dawson Springs, Ky., where he now helps his sister run a tourist park. He is writing a book about his experience titled "19 Years—Not Guilty."

From it he hopes to make enough money "to help out needy kids."

Fast-Starting Chicago Cubs Leading The League; They're Unbeaten In First Three Games

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Stan Hack, the smiling man who manages the Chicago Cubs, could figure a way to make his guys full-fledged campaigners instead of first-week wonders he might be cracking that April grin come September.

The Cubs haven't challenged since 1946, but they're leading the league today, unbeaten in three games and banging out base hits by the dozen. It's a springtime madness Hack seems to instill in his lads.

Hack took over just before the 1954 opener, replacing Phil Cavarretta who was accused of defeatism. Stanley at least got the Cubs enthused for the first three games. They were 2-1 then, having scored 41 runs on 47 hits, including seven homers and 13 doubles.

The Big Question
Some of the excitement stayed with the hitters awhile and the Cubs smacked 83 hits during their first six games. Yet their record was just 3-3 and they never got above .500 again, winding up in seventh place.

The Cubs are just about even with that fast break pace this spring. They've slugged the opposition (St. Louis and Cincinnati) for 42 hits, with six home runs and 12 doubles. It's the same old crew Hack worked up this spring to do the swinging—Randy Jackson, Hank Sauer and Dee Fondy, with the help of some later day Cubs, Ernie Banks and Gene Baker.

Question is, how long can it last. It lasted through yesterday, anyway, with Hal Jeffcoat, Jackson and Banks giving the Cubs three home runs in the ninth and 10th innings to beat winless Cincinnati 6-4.

Jump Ahead Of Big Pair
The victory kept the Cubs a jump ahead of Brooklyn and Philadelphia, also still unbeaten but having played but twice. The Brooks patted the world champion New York Giants 10-6 and the Phils beat Pittsburgh 4-3. St. Louis and five home runs beat Milwaukee 7-1 in 11 innings in the other National League game.

In the American League, Cleveland marred Detroit's home opener 3-3 to keep pace with unbeaten Boston, which beat the New York Yankees 8-4. The Chicago White Sox defeated Kansas City 7-1 on Sandy Consuegra's three-hitter. Rain washed out Baltimore's night game at Washington.

Roy Campanella, unhappy with his next-to-last spot in the Brooklyn batting order smashed a three-run homer in the fourth and Don Newcombe followed with the first of his two long clouts to put the Giants behind for keeps in the fourth.

7 Home Runs
Herm Wehmeier took charge for the Phils after Willie Jones' homer had set off a three-run second and sent the Pirates on six hits.

There were seven home runs in all as St. Louis opened at home to the Braves, but rookie Bill Virdon's was the big one—hit off Dave Kosio to win it in the 11th.

Cleveland got six-hit pitching from Mike Garcia and four hits from Al Smith, one a two-run homer, to coast past the Tigers. The Yanks found they still couldn't do much against Willard Nixon, who got his fifth straight victory over the New Yorkers.

Elston Howard became the first Negro to appear in a regular season game for the Yankees when he went into left field to replace Irv Noren, thumbed out of the game with Hank Bauer in a disputed play. Howard singled and drove in one of the eighth inning runs.

BOBBY SHANTZ IMPRESSES BUT A'S LOSE AGAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Shantz of the Kansas City A's had a new lease on life today. Shantz, the tiny southpaw pitcher whose career almost was extinguished the past two seasons because of injuries, turned in an impressive, if losing effort as the A's bowed to the White Sox, 7-1, yesterday.

Shantz drew praise both from A's manager Lou Boudreau and Sox skipper Marion for his even-tempered stint against the Sox during which he allowed five runs and six hits, three coming in the last frame he hurled.

Boudreau Pleased
"He had fine stuff and I was really pleased with his showing," said Boudreau. "We'll be happy if he can pitch that way for the next two months. We just plan to bring him along gradually until July. We want to get him in shape."

Marion said the Sox players, while doubting that Shantz had his 1952 stuff, when he had a 24-7 record, was a fine pitcher against them yesterday.

Shantz said his hurling arm felt good. "I was throwing as fast and as easily as I have ever done," he said. Bobby and his brother, Bill, formed the battery for the A's yesterday, their first hookup in the major leagues. It's the first brother battery since the Cooper brothers, Mort and Walker, toiled for the St. Louis Cardinals in the mid-forties.

RELIEF HURLER FAILS TO RUN; HE'S FORCED OUT

By ROGER L. JOHNSON

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Relief hurler Frank Smith isn't a race horse, but he was left at the post yesterday—he didn't run when he was supposed to.

It was similar to the famous boner by Fred Merkle of the 1908 New York Giants.

Smith's 10th inning lapse of memory forced the St. Louis Cardinals to produce a second "winning" run against the Milwaukee Braves. Bill Virdon did the trick with an 11th inning homer, giving Smith and the Redbirds an 8-7 victory.

Run Nullified
Here's what happened: Bob Stephenson forced Bill Sarni at second for the second St. Louis out. Smith sent an easy grounder to Dave Jolly, Milwaukee pitcher, but Jolly threw wide, Stephenson going around to third.

Wally Moon singled sharply down the right field line and Stephenson scored the first "winning" run. But Smith stopped after going a few feet, then turned back to first.

An alert Hank Aaron in right field fired the ball to Danny O'Connell, forcing Smith and nullifying the run.

A Giant Victory
Merkle was on first, as Smith was yesterday. Moose McCormick was out in third and there were two out in the last of the ninth against the Chicago Cubs. The score was 2-2.

Al Bridewell singled, scoring McCormick. Merkle, unlike Smith, ran, but he ran all the way to the Giants' dugout at the Polo Grounds.

However, the game went into the record books as a Giant victory. At the end of the season, the game was ordered replayed. Mordecai Brown pitched the Cubs to a 4-2 victory over Christy Mathewson, giving the Cubs the National League pennant.

FAVOR MIMS TO DEFEAT JONES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Holly Mims, beaten only once in his last 15 starts, is a 9-5 favorite over Bobby Jones in their nationally televised 10-round bout tonight at the Arena.

Mims dropped a controversial nod to Rocky Castellani at Cleveland, the latter's home town, last Jan. 12. Since then, the 26-year-old Washington, D. C., middleweight took a close one from Milo Savage in New York. He is rated the favorite because of his heavier hitting as evidenced by knockouts over George Johnson and Willie Troy.

Jones, 29, has lost by shades to Johnson, Joey Giardello and middleweight champ Bob Olson. The Oakland, Calif., spooler attained an upsetter's reputation with a pair of victories over Gil Turner last year in the same ring where he meets Mims tonight.

The bout will be telecast by NBC (10 p.m. EST).

Red Wings Take 7th Stanley Cup

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings won their seventh Stanley Cup, emblem of world hockey supremacy, last night with Alex Delvecchio contributing two goals in a 3-1 win over the Montreal Canadiens.

Delvecchio, dropped to the third line in midseason for indifferent play, began to perk up shortly thereafter and climaxed his comeback by scoring a total of seven goals in the Cup playoffs.

Gordie Howe scored the other Detroit goal and Floyd Curry tallied for Montreal.

The Cup victory followed the Red Wings seventh win of the regular season National Hockey League title.

SUGAR RAY WINS BUT HE'S NOT UP TO TITLE FIGHT

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, once one of the most feared fighters in the ring, hasn't reached the point in his comeback campaign where he is ready to meet champion Bob Olson for the middleweight title he vacated.

Sugar Ray stemmed any optimism last night after winning his third comeback fight against one loss by hammering Ted Olla into a third round TKO defeat.

"But I'm not ready for Olson yet," Robinson said. "I'm happy at my progress but I'm just beginning to find myself. I'm not at a point yet where I'd want to or could fight Olson."

Not Much Dancing
Sugar Ray, 163, did little dancing the first two rounds against the rough young Olla, 10 years Robinson's junior at 24. All the fight was wrapped into the third round and it was all Robinson.

He stepped out from his corner and rammed a right to Olla's head which was the beginning of the end for the 164-pound Milwaukeean. The blow sent Olla to the ropes and there Robinson poured in at least eight rights to the head.

Olla managed to get away from the ropes and the Robinson up but Sugar Ray started in again pumping in wicked rights. A left finally floored Olla. He was up at four, took the mandatory eight count and the beating commenced again. The fight was stopped at 2:15 of the round.

RUSSIA WANTS AUSTRIAN PACT, REMOVE TROOPS

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government called today for the speedy conclusion of an Austrian independence treaty and withdrawal of all occupation troops not later than next Dec. 31.

A joint Soviet-Austrian communique issued this afternoon said Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab had assured Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that Austria will not join any military alliances or permit the establishment of any foreign military bases in its territory.

The Soviet government also pledged: (1) to settle its reparations bill against Austria for the equivalent of 150 million dollars in Austrian goods; (2) to return to Austria all former German property in the Soviet zone including the Danube Shipping Co., and (3) to return the Austrian oil fields and refineries which the Russians have been operating during their 10-year occupation.

The joint communique summed up the results of negotiations between Molotov, Raab and their aides which began here Tuesday. It was issued two hours after the Austrian government chief, Deputy Chancellor Adolf Schaerf, and their party left in a Soviet military plane for Vienna.

"We leave here happy people," said Raab as he boarded the plane.

500,000 Anglers Open Trout Season

HARRISBURG (AP)—The 1953 trout season opened at 5 a.m. today and fishermen by the thousands braved predicted rainy weather to try their luck in the state's well-stocked streams.

The weatherman predicted scattered light rain for most parts of the state but temperatures were expected to each into the 60's by afternoon.

The Fish Commission expected over 500,000 fishermen or more in the field during the day.

A two month stocking program which dumped 1½ million trout into public streams was completed yesterday.

Reports from fish wardens indicated "an excellent carryover of trout from last year." A week ago, these reports showed most streams "running full with very little damage from flood waters."

Helium was first liquefied and solidified in 1908.

Cabinet At Bedside

"The shock to the community was terrible.

"At midnight the Cabinet, with Messrs. Sumner, Colfax, and Farnsworth, Judge Carver, Governor Oglesby, General Meigs, Colonel Hay, and a few personal friends, with Surgeon General Haines and his medical associates, were around his bedside. The President is in a dying condition at midnight.

"The President was in a state of syncope, totally insensible and breathing slowly, the blood oozing from the wound at the back of his head.

"The Surgeons were exhausting every possible effort of medical skill, but all hope was gone.

"The parting of his family with the dying President is too sad for description."

"Afflicting Visitation"

The following editorial was published in The Compiler under date of April 17, 1865.

"The country was startled on Saturday by the intelligence that the President of the United States had come to his death at the hands of a bold and reckless assassin. An event so appalling had never before occurred in our history, and that it should have fallen upon the country at a time when the prospect for the restoration of peace and order was so bright and heart-cheering, lent additional weight to the afflicting visitation. President Lincoln had shown recently so manifest a desire and intention to act with magnanimity and moderation in adjusting our difficulties, that there was good reason to look for a speedy termination of them; and that he should have been removed at such a juncture, is regarded by all reflecting men as the greatest misfortune that could have befallen the nation.

"May God, in His mercy, avert further calamity from this long-afflicted people!"

OFFICIAL GAZETTE

"Washington, April 15, 1:30 a.m. — Major Gen. Dix: This evening at about 9:20 p.m., at Ford's Theatre, the President, while sitting in his private box with Mrs. Lincoln, Miss Hams and Major Rathburn, was shot by an assassin who suddenly entered the box and approached behind the President. The assassin then leapt upon the stage brandishing a large knife or dagger and made his escape in the rear of the theater.

"The pistol ball entered at the back of the President's head, and penetrated nearly through the head. The wound is mortal.

"The President has been insensible ever since it was inflicted and is now dying."

The Compiler followed with a news article about a "Town Meeting" as follows:

"In obedience to a call of the Burgess of the Borough, a public meeting was held in the Court House on Saturday afternoon last, to give public expression of our sorrow of the recent National calamity with which we have been visited — in the assassination of our President, Abraham Lincoln. The meeting was organized by the selection of the following officers:

"President, R. G. McCreary, Esq.; vice presidents, R. G. Harper, Esq., W. A. Duncan, Esq., George Boyer, Esq., and George Wolf, Esq.; secretaries, Edw. G. Fahnestock and H. A. Picking, Esq.

"R. G. McCreary, Esq., Burgess of the Borough, announced the object of the meeting in a short but feeling address. Hon. Edw. McPherson paid a deserved tribute to the memory of the deceased, and closed by offering the following resolutions, which were seconded with some appropriate remarks by D. McNaughty, Esq., and unanimously adopted:

"Be it resolved by the citizens of Gettysburg in town meeting assembled:

"That the instant death of the Executive of our Nation, by the hands of an assassin, is a calamitous and unexampled event which justly arrests general attention and excites general sorrow.

"Five-Fold Fearfulness"

"That in the very presence of this great affliction we cannot even attempt to measure it, thus coming with five-fold greater fearfulness than when, before, death removed chosen Chiefs of the Republic.

"That superadded to all the more ordinary considerations attaching to this mysterious chastening, is the peculiar circumstance that the inflexible integrity, unselfish patriotism, and high moral qualities which have marked the character of ABRAHAM LINCOLN as extraordinary, have impressed him indelibly upon this age and country, and have made his career among the most conspicuous of public rulers, gave added value to his life, in this great Constructive Crisis, in which, after a prolonged period of war, the gravest problems of Re-organization and Re-union are testing and taxing the strongest powers of all.

"That in bowing resignedly to this inscrutable Providence, we express the prayerful hope that it may be over-ruled to the lasting good of the whole people—for whose life our choicest sons have cheerfully shed their hearts' blood, and over whose assured safety all loyal hearts have been so glad.

Wear Gripe On Arm

"That as a mark of respect to the Office and to the Man, this meeting recommend that the business places of the town remain closed for the residue of the day, and that every citizen be requested to wear gripe upon his left arm for the space of thirty days.

"That the Chairman of this Meeting appoint a Committee of nine as a Committee of Arrangement to take all the necessary steps for more formal and appropriate action, in the future.

"The Chairman then appointed the following Committee, to whom are entrusted the arrangements for more formal action in the future, as we contemplated in the last resolution:

"Hon. Edward McPherson, David Wills, Esq., Dr. G. Fahnestock, H. A. Picking, Esq., Col. C. H. Buehler, J. B. Danner, Esq., J. Harvey White, Esq., George Boyer, Esq., Dr. Charles Horner.

"On motion, the meeting adjourned.

Funeral Oration

"The Committee convened immediately after, when it was resolved that the proper Authorities be requested to have the Court House, churches and public buildings of the town draped in mourning—and that Rev. D. T. Carnahan be requested to deliver a Funeral Oration, on the day selected for national humiliation and prayer, or on some other suitable occasion. Rev. Dr. J. A. Brown was selected to open the exercises with prayer.

"It was also resolved to request all business places to be closed during the burial of the late President.

"The Committee will have an adjourned meeting this (Monday) evening at the office of J. H. White, Esq., when more definite arrangements will be made."

The Adams Sentinel of April 18, 1865, published the following:

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON

"Our latest dispatches from Washington are, that the President died on Saturday morning, at a few minutes after 7 o'clock.

"That Vice President Johnson was inaugurated as President on the forenoon of the following day.

"That a meeting of the old Cabinet was held (notice of which is given in another column).

"That W. Hunter, Esq., Chief Clerk of the State Department, was appointed Secretary of State during the disability of Secretary Seward and his son, F. W. Seward, the Assistant Secretary; (an attempt was made on the life of the Swards the same evening).

"That President Johnson retains in office the present Cabinet.

"That the funeral of President Lincoln will take place at noon tomorrow (Wednesday).

"That his remains will be removed to Springfield, Illinois.

"That Secretary Seward is improving, and may survive his wounds.

"That his son, the Assistant Secretary, is still in a critical situation.

"That the evidence is very strong, that J. W. Booth was the murderer of the President, and a desperado, of Prince George's County, Maryland, named John Surratt the man who made the attack on Mr. Seward.

"They are known, and from the activity of the authorities will soon be caught, and made to pay the penalty of their fiendish acts."

The following is a portion of an editorial published in The Adams Sentinel the same day:

MURDER OF THE PRESIDENT

"We give in another column, all of the particulars which have reached us, up to the hour of going to press, of the terrible tragedy which has started the Nation—the murder of President LINCOLN, and the attempted assassination of Secretary SEWARD, and his sons, on Friday night last.

"Although several days have now passed since the first shock occasioned by its sudden announcement, we have not yet been able to recover sufficient composure to contemplate it with the calmness necessary to measure its significance, or to speculate upon probable consequences. In the presence of a crime so essentially Satanic and Heaven-daring—a calamity so overwhelming and so appalling—the heart sinks crushed and bleeding.

"Patriotic Exultation"

"On Friday last, the loyal hearts of the American People beat high with patriotic exultation over the utter discomfiture of the treasonable conspiracy which, for four years, had deluged the land with blood, and threatened the destruction of the Republic. The capture of Richmond, and the surrender of that army which had for so long defended that citadel of treason, and given strength and power to the Rebellion—the flight of DAVIS and his associates in the work of treason—the assured triumph of the Nation, and the prospects of immediate Peace—had electrified the popular heart. The Republic, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, was radiant with the smiles of Victory and coming Peace. In every city, and hamlet, and village of the loyal North, the banner of the Republic was thrown proudly to the breeze, while the deep-mouthed cannon thundered forth the glorious assurance, that the Republic was saved!

"Voice Of Joy Is Hushed"

"But all at once—with the suddenness of an electric flash, which announced the dread event—the voice of joy is hushed, mourners go about the streets, and the heart of a nation lies crushed beneath a calamity so utterly overwhelming, as to blanch every cheek, and make the stoutest heart quail with dread.

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN—the Chief Executive of the United States—the man who, in the Providence of God, led the Nation in its few years of pilgrimage through blood, and fire, and desolation—to whose genius and virtues, sagacity and fearless integrity, more than all others, the Nation felt indebted for its deliverance from Treason and Danger—is suddenly stricken down in the Capital of the Republic by the hand of an assassin! Treason, not satisfied with the terrible sacrifices it had demanded during the four years of its horrid rule, would needs have a victim more costly than any that had preceded, and finds it in the person of the idol Chief Magistrate of the Republic.

The first U. S. patent, signed by George Washington was for a method of "making pot and pearl ashes."

Courteous Retort Yields Ice Cream

OMAHA (AP) — A five-year-old neighbor lad was visiting a neighbor woman while she was cleaning cupboards. She found an old wooden spoon which she gave him and the following dialogue ensued:

Boy: "I'd like something to eat with the spoon."

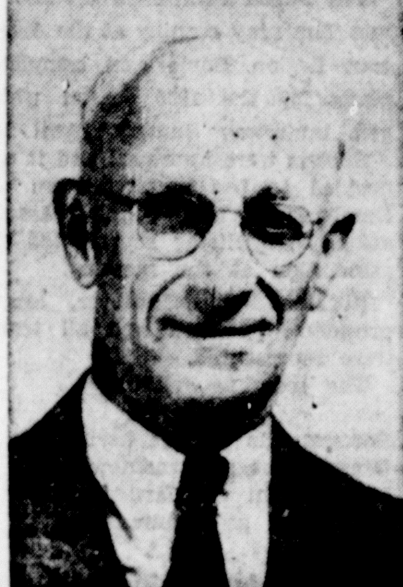

Housewife: "What would you like?"

Boy: "I can't ask for anything to eat because that isn't polite. I'll eat whatever you give me."

He got a big helping of ice cream.

Money is the name of a town in Mississippi.

DEATH PENALTY

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Judge W. A. Leland McKeithen adjourned court and ordered an investigation of cackles coming from an air vent. A hen had escaped from a coop of chickens in the county jail kitchen atop the courthouse.

When court resumed the judge called for a report.

"The death penalty, your honor," replied Jailer A. J. Brewer, "the hen will be served to the prisoners Sunday."

Salvage Lot Auto Aids Polio Patients

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — An auto body rescued from a salvage lot is helping polio patients at Blodgett Memorial Hospital relearn the little chores of daily life.

The car is parked in the therapy room of the hospital. Patients learn to get in and out of it. They have started a collection of windshield stickers and have nicknamed the car "Phil."

As one patient put it: "Even though Phil doesn't have a motor, it makes us feel we're getting somewhere."

Red Astronomers Mix Atheism With Stars

MOSCOW (AP) — To give the Russian peasants the thrill of stargazing — and, also, to propagate them on the theme of Natural Sciences vs. Religion — the Soviet Astronomy Societies are sending mobile observatories to tour the countryside.

The Blue Bus of the Planetarium is becoming an increasingly familiar sight. In it are mounted powerful telescopes and then the farmers are invited to come and look.

First they are given a lecture on astronomy in which the lecturer invites the farmers to "become imaginary passengers on a space ship . . . This is what you will see."

Also they get considerable atheistic propaganda in these lectures which dispute the Bible story of the Creation of the World.

REHOBOAM, KING OF JUDAH

II Chronicles 10:6-17

Key Verse: If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God who gives to all men generously and without reproaching, and it will be given him. James 1:5.

National leaders whose lives are entwined inevitably with those of their people are constantly faced with the making of grave decisions. These decisions often make or break a man's public and private life as well as his nation's future destiny. Such was the case with Rehoboam, fourth king of Israel. His experience and the consequences of an unwise decision are the subject of the first lesson in the second quarter of Sunday School Lessons under the general heading, "The Southern Kingdom and Its Prophets."

Rehoboam was the son of Solomon and Naamah, a princess of Ammon who clung to her heathen god Molech. He was raised in the luxury of court life and to believe in the "divine right of kings."

Probably he was exposed to the heathen worship of his mother at an early age. The Kingdom of Israel was only about 100 years old but its "Golden Age" began to wane during Solomon's reign. The supposedly "wisest" king took too many heathen brides, began to forget the one true God, and used his power for personal luxury and prestige.

Another heritage he left his son and heir Rehoboam: A people who were heavily taxed to support the kingly splendor, and a vast army of conscripted laborers who were restive under enforced slavery.

The Hebrew people were impoverished while their ruler became rich. This was the state of affairs when Solomon died and representatives of the twelve tribes gathered at Shechem to proclaim Rehoboam king. The overburdened people took the opportunity of laying their grievances before the young ruler, asking that their taxes be lightened. Spokesman for the people was Jeroboam, an able petitioner who had fled to Egypt from Solomon but had been recalled by the populace after Solomon's death.

King Rehoboam made a very reasonable request: That he be given three days in which to consider the people's request. First he consulted the old men, asking, "How do you advise me to answer this people?" He knew only too well that a resentful people had given him an ultimatum: The counsel he received promptly was: "If you will be kind to this people and please them, and speak good words to them, then they will be your servants forever." Their experienced opinion was that the king should lighten the taxes, be kind, be generous with words of commendation. If he did, the people would serve him gladly.

But King Rehoboam "forgot the counsel" of the old men. The stubbornness and pride which characterized many a young leader prevailed. He was afraid the royal income would be affected. Consequently, he turned to the younger men, those with whom he had associated. This is the advice they gave and he took: "And now, whereas my father laid upon you a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke. My father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions." The scorpion was the name of a cruel lash used in scourging.

And so King Rehoboam made his big mistake. All because he had the wrong concept of leadership, which required the people to serve their leader without question. Christian democracy has another concept: That a leader can be evaluated by the service he gives the people. The motto of the Rotary Club is, "He profits most who serves the best." Once John Ruskin answered a friend who inquired how to find a good servant, "There is only one way to have a good servant and that is to be worthy of being served."

Rehoboam had miscalculated the temper of the people. Furthermore, he had failed to take all the counsel to God in prayer. As a result of his decision, ten of the twelve tribes renounced their allegiance with these words, "What portion have we in David?" And so they seceded from the Kingdom, leaving only Judah and part of Benjamin. The ten tribes set up a Kingdom under Jeroboam which later became the Northern Kingdom.

There should be three steps in making important decisions: (1) Consult those who are experienced, understand the situation, and are unbiased; (2) Take the counsel to God in prayer, and accept what you believe in His will; (3) Consider the decision in the light of those whom it will affect, and whether it is in the best interest of all concerned.

If modern leaders in government would study Old Testament history, they would profit by the lessons of early kings and rulers. The role of the "unexpected" advisers is almost as important for executives must depend upon them for guidance.

EVERYONE WELCOME

Spring IS A MIRACLE

Spring is so much more than just a season. It is a miracle, enacted against a backdrop of perfect days. It is the time of rebirth . . . of reaffirmation.

Spring is Christ's story, beautifully illustrated by nature. It is all the teachings of the Church, brought to reality, spread out gloriously for you to see. Nature, in her sweet, new loveliness, touches the world, touches you with the Christ-like spirit. If your vision has been dulled, she gives you the chance to see again more brightly than ever.

Palm Sunday is here again. Never before have the doors of the Church seemed to stand quite so open . . . so ready to receive you. Never has the lesson of everlasting life . . . Christ's lesson . . . been so poignant. There will be new richness in your life if you will trust in the Church. In your soul there can be eternal spring, and all the bleakness, questioning and doubt can be erased from your heart forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

PUBLIC APATHY IS "ROADBLOCK" TO EDUCATION

HARRISBURG (P)—The two-day Pennsylvania Conference on Education entered its final sessions today with a warning that public apathy is the major roadblock to solving many education problems.

Clint Pace, a committee director for the White House Conference on Education, told a dinner meeting last night that the nation "needs teachers, buildings, money and an understanding of what we are to do" to improve the nation's education systems.

He told some 600 delegates to the state conference, called by Gov. George M. Leader, that eventually the public will be forced to make one of three decisions:

"1. Stop all education.
"2. Give less education to the same number of students now in school.

"3. Pay the bill for more and better education in time and effort, as well as in dollars."

Consider All Problems

The conference, drawing representatives from the fields of teaching, labor, business, agriculture, religion and veterans, is considering all sides of the school problem in preparation for the White House conference on education next Nov. 26.

Gov. Leader will address the closing banquet of the conference tonight.

Pace said that the White House conference idea is of great interest to President Eisenhower who deplored the fact that during World War II, "eleven divisions of men were turned down by the Army because they were too ignorant—even too ignorant to peel potatoes."

Earlier, Dr. Paul H. Wueller, associated director of the Joint State Government Commission, told an education finance group that legislative revisions in the state's public school subsidy program could save the commonwealth 22 million dollars every two years.

Bills to revamp many inequities in school payments, he said, are now before the General Assembly.

"Wherever there is any 'pork' in the system it ought to be taken out," he added. The commission is the research arm of the Legislature.

Among savings that could be achieved, Dr. Wueller listed:

Revision of the reimbursement formula (12 million dollars per biennium); abolish the $200 yearly payments made to district for closed schools (4 millions); change building construction subsidies to a flat per pupil or actual cost, whichever is less (3 millions); revise out-district tuition reimbursements (2½ millions).

MYSTERY MONKEY
CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (P)—Twelve-year-old Dennis Summers was puzzled when he found a dead monkey wedged in the branches of a tree. It had died of exposure. The police were mystified too. They had no reports of a missing monkey and a check of residents known to own monkey pets showed that all were safe.

No one could offer an explanation.

a new trial. At the new trial he did not say he had been wrongly convicted the first time. He pleaded guilty. Yet Terry was given only a life sentence.

"In less than ten years, Terry was free. His murder had been rewarded with parole. It was what is called 'lifetime parole.' That means he is subject to supervision for life. But let us see what a farce the 'supervision' turned out to be.

"Terry first violated parole by failing to report to parole officers. Nothing was done about that. When next caught, in a Camden auto crash, he had an automatic pistol in his possession. He had violated his parole again. Nothing was done about that.

"In July, 1947, Terry and his wife were arrested in connection with a $205,000 jewel robbery in Ocean City. While they were not convicted of any part in the robbery, Terry was held for court on a charge of violating his parole—his LIFETIME PAROLE—by possessing deadly weapons. Specifically, two revolvers and 20 bullets.

"That time Terry was sent back to prison, ostensibly to serve out his life term. But never underestimate the high regard our Pardons Board has for murderers. In 1951 this killer—who was on a lifetime parole which he had violated time and again—was set free once more.

"How ridiculous can a pardon get?"

"For that, consider Frank Calderbank. He was taken with Terry in this latest safecracking job. Calderbank led a gang which staged a $35,000 holdup of the Rising Sun Avenue branch of the Olney Bank & Trust Company. Calderbank, too, was free in ten years. In 1947 he was arrested in another burglary, but in May, 1952, he got—you guessed it—a parole!

"No wonder our streets are not safe. No wonder Police Commissioner Gibbons asks: 'Why is it that a man who has been arrested for two serious crimes while on a life parole, is allowed to walk the streets with a gun?'"

"Why? Just look again. Last March 23, our Pardons Board set free:

"1. Clifford P. Redden, the 'flash bandit' sentenced from 50 to 100 years in prison. He had served only eight years.

"2. Henry W. Weaver, a first degree murderer who had been given life imprisonment. He had served only 12 years.

"So goes the grim parade, month after month. Our whole judicial process is set at naught by the Pardons Board's open-handed policy of releasing hordes of professional criminals and parole violators—to prey, rob, and kill again.

"Who says there is any mystery about our soaring crime rate? Not J. Edgar Hoover. Of 18 FBI agents killed in line of duty, 11 were shot down by parolees. As Mr. Hoover wrote The Inquirer:

"It can be very discouraging for a law enforcement officer, who may have risked his life in the process, to see a vicious outlaw released after only a short time, with no apparent regard for his dangerous potentialities."

"The Terry case bears that out. One hundred per cent."

On a brig bound for Calcutta in the year 1830, a 16-year-old seaman named Sam Colt stood watching the helmsman. He noticed that whichever way the wheel was turned, each spoke came into line with a clutch that held it fast. Something clicked in young Colt's mind and he proceeded to carve from wood a model of a pistol with revolving cylinders which would turn automatically with each shot and lock into place. Back on dry land, he spent his meager funds to have a mechanic make two crude working models. One refused to work and the other exploded in his hand. Still fired by ambition, Colt took to the lecture platform to finance his gunmaking. Eventually, he succeeded in having a gunsmith turn out workable revolvers of steel which he demonstrated to every possible prospect.

But fame was still a long way off. Colt journeyed to Europe, secured English and French patents and, in 1836, an American patent. In the same year he formed a company and began to make revolving weapons in the unused portion of a silk mill in Paterson, New Jersey. The company was dissolved in a few years, however, when Colt and his associates quarreled, and the inventor quit gunmaking to develop a submarine mine. By this time, though, he had convinced skeptical Army and Navy ordnance officials, in a series of personal tests, that his revolvers were practical. When the Mexican War broke out, Texas patriots were equipped with Colt firearms.

The time that followed was feverish, but Colt's restless genius kept pace with them.

Through the California gold rush, the Mormon migration and the homesteadings of the West, the Colt six-shooter blazed its way to glory. Colt foresaw the Civil War and threw all his energy into arming the Union. He succeeded but died before the war's end. The revolution that he sparked in repeating firearms went on, however, and today, in Hartford, Connecticut, his company still turns out fine precision steel weapons with the name that its founder made famous in every corner of the earth.

Horst Reminds GEORGE LEADER OF TAX PROMISE

HARRISBURG (P)—Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, reached into the 1954 political campaign today to remind Gov. George M. Leader of a statement he would not "substitute anything" for the one per cent sales tax.

"The governor has been slowly but surely preparing the public for repudiation of his repeated promises to operate the state government without the sales tax or a substitute," Horst said in a statement.

The sales tax expires Aug. 31 and Leader is pledged against its re-instatement.

He quoted Leader as saying during the campaign:

Republican leaders, in an attempt to put me on the spot, have asked what I would substitute for the sales tax. I do not plan to substitute anything. I am not convinced at this time, that a substitute is necessary."

People "Believed" Him

Horst said the people "evidently believed" these words of the governor and then added:

"The people will not accept astronomical demands for new taxes until the Democratic administration makes a real and sincere effort to put into effect some of the savings they so glibly promised last year when they were seeking votes."

Leader already has asked the Legislature to meet in a joint session next Tuesday to hear his tax and budget message. Leading administration sources are speculating that the governor may ask for a statewide income tax as the keystone to a tax package to raise between 400 and 500 million dollars a biennium.

In another development, four labor leaders took a wait-and-see attitude toward the Leader program after a series of tax conferences with administration leaders.

Await Tax Package

"We are not committed to any of the methods proposed for meeting the (tax) situation and will not take a position until we have seen the governor's whole tax package," they said in a statement.

It was issued jointly by Lester Thomas, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers; Joseph McDonough, state AFL president; Harry Boyer, state CIO president, and Charles Sludden, legislative representative for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

"We have sat in on several meetings with Gov. Leader and administration officials at which the budgetary picture for the commonwealth was presented.

"We were shocked and dismayed to learn the full details of the financial plight of the state. Clearly, necessary services to the people of the commonwealth are in danger of breakdown unless large sums of money are raised."

Meanwhile, a private polling organization in Pittsburgh said the majority of people it polled on possible state taxes favored continuation of the one per cent sales levy.

Guide Post Research said it polled 2,000 persons and that 83 per cent prefer the sales tax, 11 per cent preferred an income tax and six per cent had no preference.

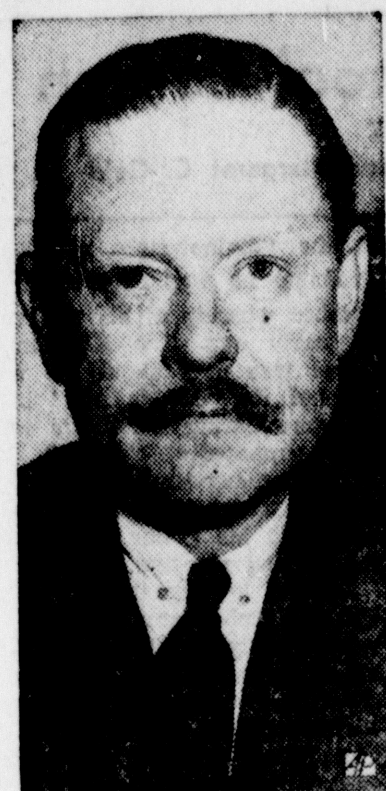

317 Paid Damages For Bleacher Collapse

BALTIMORE (P)—Thirty-seven months of court hearings culminated yesterday in the awarding of $453,735.43 to 317 persons who were injured March 6, 1952, when bleachers collapsed during an ice show.

Much of the litigation dealt with who the defendants should be. The awards were jointly against the Sonja Henie Ice Revue, Inc., and Edwin T. Coronati and his New Jersey Coronati Amusement Co., the firm which erected the bleachers.

No damages were assessed against Miss Henie.

The biggest award, $30,000, went to Janet Harryman of Baltimore who said she suffered a broken back. The smallest was $10 for a minor injury.

STATE WORKER IS DISMISSED ON LEASE COUNT

HARRISBURG (P)—A state Forests and Waters Department engineer today faced a charge of renting construction equipment to persons he engaged for state stream clearance work in Western Pennsylvania.

Frank P. Lawley Jr., deputy attorney general, said Floyd W. Dille, 51, received an estimated $30,000 in lease fees since 1953.

Dille, of Polk, Venango County, was dismissed immediately after his arrest yesterday by Maurice K. Goddard, department secretary. Dille worked for the department since 1949 at $4,400 a year.

Lawley said Dille is charged with leasing equipment to contractors for work on state projects under Dille's own supervision. The arrest was made at the Capitol Building by two state police detectives on orders from Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen.

Faces 14 Counts

Dille was taken before Alderman John L. Madden and charged with 14 counts of violation of the Penal Code. He was released in $1,000 bail pending a hearing next Tuesday.

Lawley said Dille, if convicted of the misdemeanor, would face a fine of up to $500 or up to six months in jail or both.

Dille served as general foreman on stream clearance projects in Western Pennsylvania. Lawley said the engineer was in charge of arranging for rental of heavy equipment and employment of laborers in Allegheny, Blair, Lawrence, Mercer, Warren, Venango, Bradford, and Union counties.

All contracts involved in the counties, Lawley said, were given out prior to November, 1954.

U.S. Seeks "Fairest" Plan For Handling Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fairest possible method of distributing supplies of Salk polio vaccine will be sought at a government-sponsored meeting of doctors, health officials and manufacturers here April 22.

Announcing this last night, Secretary of Welfare Hobby said: "The objective . . . will be to carry out the President's directive to explore every possible means for assuring equal opportunity for immunization for all those who wish it as quickly as possible."

Mrs. Hobby said that among those being invited at representatives of the American Medical Assn. and other medical groups, the Assn. of State and Territorial Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the pharmaceutical industry.

The conference also will consider ways to keep the public informed about supplies and distribution and the problem of cooperation among groups concerned.

Available supplies of the paralytic preventive will probably go further than was estimated originally because of a change in the prescribed method of treatment.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis endorsed yesterday the method recommended by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, discoverer of the vaccine. Previous tests have involved three injections over a period of a few weeks.

The new method calls for two shots, two to four weeks apart, with a third to be administered seven months later as a "booster."

"Locally we have expended our funds for the treatment and special needs of Adams Countyans who have suffered from polio. We feel that we can pay the costs of materials for the first and second grade vaccination and still have a large enough reserve to take care of countyans suffering from the disease who need our help."

May Pay For Third Shot

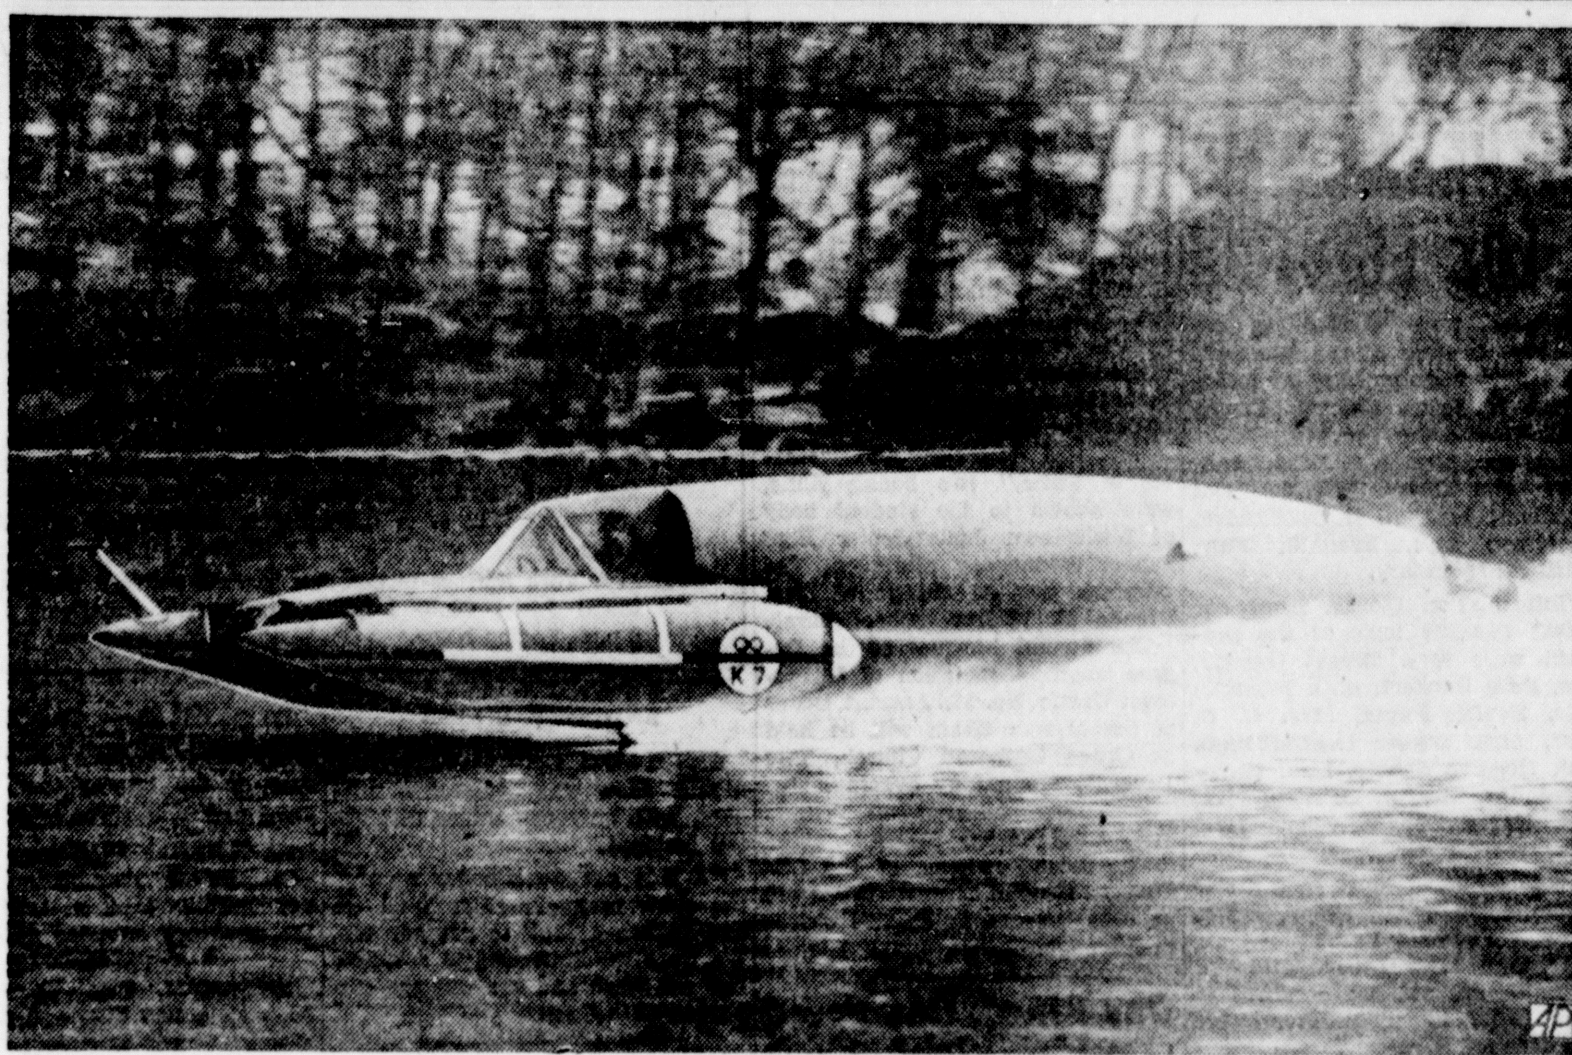

Mrs. Codori said reports today indicated that because of the great expense for vaccine, the National Foundation may provide vaccine only for the first two "shots" to be given the first and second graders and then may make a small charge for the third inoculation where the parents of children can afford it. If such a program is carried out, she added, "it is possible, depending upon the expense, that the Adams County unit can provide the funds, or at least a portion of them, to pay for the third shot."

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County medical director, who has headed arrangements for the giving of the Salk vaccine to the county school children today reported as "amusing" reports printed in other newspapers that only five counties—not including Adams—are ready to give the shots. Adams County has had all arrangements made, pending arrival of the vaccine itself, for more than a week.

Clark Is Opposed To Martin's Bill

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A bill introduced by U. S. Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) to allow the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to enlarge its activities and establish marine terminals has drawn the opposition of Mayor Joseph S. Clark, Jr.

Clark said yesterday the bill would create "an upriver port authority" which he contended would compete with the Delaware River Port Authority.

The measure has the support of Sen. James H. Duff and New Jersey Senators H. Alexander Smith and Clifford P. Case, Jr., all Republicans.

Clark said the Martin bill, now before the Senate Public Works Committee, would "create confusion and conflicting interests along one of the nation's major waterways."

WHY DID GUIDED MISSILE FLEE?

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Admittedly "embarrassed," the Army had a board of inquiry working today to find out what caused a Nike guided missile to run away.

Sgt. 1/C Stanley C. Kozek of Allentown, Pa., was slightly burned yesterday when the missile, armed with a warhead, suddenly took off during a routine practice alert.

It exploded, apparently while in flight, over the intersection of the Baltimore-Washington Expressway and Maryland 602, about one mile from the edge of the military reservation.

Lt. Col. Dwight Bingham, deputy chief of information at 2nd Army headquarters here, who admitted the Army's embarrassment, said it was fortunate no one else was hurt and no property destroyed.

The accidental launching, Bingham indicated, may have been caused by a crewman or a malfunction in the electronic firing mechanism.

Pvt. R. C. Lamon, a Federal Parks policeman, witnessed the explosion on the parkway. He said some of the metal fragments "gouged about a half dozen holes."

A period of 179 years was spanned in the styles of bridal gowns presented by the models. Miss Kadel played wedding music throughout the showing.

Pot Luck

Say gals!!! When you're spring housecleaning, why not spring houseclean your handbag??? There's nothing in the world like a woman's handbags. Ask any man, he'll agree. . . .

Should you be brave enough to peek into the woman's bag, it's hard to tell what you'll find. For instance, there's a coin purse, a wallet, three pencils, a pen, a checkbook (this is a must), three charge-plates (bless them), aspirins, two handkerchiefs, lipstick, powder and more paint, a notebook, two pairs of earrings (forgotten from several evenings ago), a pair of white gloves, a nail file, emery board, bottle of nail polish (don't doubt it, it's a fact), several "cute" newspaper clippings, perfume, and a few forgotten articles such as an ash tray from a restaurant, napkins from parties and such. . . .

So you see, men, if you plan to buy your wife a handbag, make sure it's large. . . . But don't laugh, a woman can always find things in her handbag while a man fumbles through six or eight pockets. . . .

GOC meeting Wednesday evening. Let's plan to attend. It's fun to be a spotter. Ask your friends and neighbors in Hanover and Gettysburg, who are spotters, about the hours and work. . . .

Say gals, here's some advice that Dr. Tennyson Geyer passes on to domineering women: "When you start wearing the pants in the family, some other gal is wearing the mink coat." Well!!!

Trout season opens today! There go the men. Bet Charlie Weikert, Doc Phreaner and Joe Long will be hard to find for a few days. . . .

Ranly weather washed out all the 'Bols ball games this week. Come on, guys, let's beat Boiling Springs Tuesday afternoon when the Adams County League officially opens. . . . April 16-23 is National Garden Week. Let's start digging. National Baby Week is observed from April 25 to May 1. It's "buy, buy" for Baby Week. . . .

Drive safely this week. As one huge tractor trailer had written on the back of his truck, "If you can't stop, smile as you go under."—ibb

One Fined, One Freed Despite Confessions

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Sam Poole, 48, was fined $260 in Municipal Court, and Angelo Lopez, 25, was acquitted. Each owns a Chevrolet, each admitted ramming a yellow fire plug, each crumpled his left-front fender in the process, and each failed to report his accident. But police found only one fractured fire plug — with tan paint on it. Lopez' car is black, but Poole's is tan. Judge H. Joe Rawlinson threw out charges against Lopez, because the city couldn't prove which fire plug he struck.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Clyde Treavy, an engineer for radio station KXYZ, should have stayed in bed.

He had to walk up 34 flights of stairs to work because the elevator wasn't working. He had to walk down, too. Then his car battery was dead. And when he did get the car started, it ran out of gas.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — An automobile show was declared a success, with only one minor disturbing incident.

Americans take out about 40,000 new patents every year.

DETROIT (AP) — The population of Detroit's suburbs should pass that of the city proper by 1960 according to estimates of the Detroit Regional Planning Commission. Latest commission figures put Detroit's total at 1,894,000 and the combined suburbs at 1,506,000.

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Somebody stole two diamond rings and a wrist watch one night from the home of Mrs. W. T. Redden. Next night, somebody put them back.

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — Methodist minister Rev. John E. Stayton won the Lions Club liar's contest. His story:

Says Asians Have Distorted View Of US

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Prof. Walter Hovey of the University of Pittsburgh, back from a tour of Asia, says he found "very little respect for life and culture of the United States." People in such countries as Lebanon, Iran, Iraq, Pakistan, India and Ceylon base their opinions of the U. S. on "mob slayings, stories of race segregation and movies," he says. "In some places I was asked if it's safe to walk along the streets alone in the United States."

"Most of the Near East nations," Prof. Hovey says, "are in favor of recognizing Red China. Those countries are eager to trade with China and as long as they belong to the Western bloc they can't."

3 WHITE RATS STUDIED BY 5TH GRADE PUPILS

"Winky," "Pinkie," and "Blinky" enrolled in the Fifth grade of Rolling Acres Elementary School Monday.

Unlike other students they plan to stay only five weeks and do nothing but eat and sleep. For "Winky," "Pinkie" and "Blinky" are four-week-old female albino rats that are being used in the "Better Breakfast" program at Rolling Acres.

The program was formulated by Mrs. Brenda B. Walker, school nurse, under the supervision of Dorothy K. Waller, senior nutritionist from the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

Get Different Diets

The rats, which are germ-free and seldom bite, were obtained from Scott Farms, Marshall Creek, Pa., for the experiment. They have been placed in cages, built by the Industrial Arts Department of Littlestown Junior-Senior High School, in the fifth grade room, Mrs. Myrtle Menchey, teacher.

For the next three weeks, "Winky" will receive whole wheat cereal with whole milk, fruit, eggs and milk to drink. "Pinkie" will eat jelly toast and have coffee to drink. "Blinky" will receive dry cereal with milk and water to drink. The rats will be weighed each Monday and Thursday. For the remaining two weeks, the rats will be put on the "good breakfast" program.

Make Weight Graphs
Since Monday, "Winky" has increased nine grams, "Pinkie" has remained the same and "Blinky" has gained four grams from their original weight of approximately 55 grams.

The thirty-one pupils of the fifth grade clean the bottom of the cages each day and the entire cage once a week. At night, the rats are

REPORTS SAY LEADER WILL ASK MODIFIED INCOME LEVY

HARRISBURG, Pa. — While Gov. George M. Leader kept silent, reports piled up at the State Capitol today he will ask the General Assembly to impose a modified form of state income tax.

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette reported the governor has reached "a flat and final decision" on that levy as the cornerstone of the administration tax package to raise $400 to $500 million dollars.

The newspaper said the governor decided on that levy despite objections from several Democratic legislators, naming Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman, Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, and Rep. Albert S. Readinger, the party's House leader.

No Advance Hints
The governor will present his tax program and the commonwealth's budget to the General Assembly next week, possibly Tuesday or Wednesday.

Thomas K. Hodges, the governor's press secretary, said there would be no announcement from Leader on the details of the tax package until he delivers it to the lawmakers in person.

But there has been no denial that a modified state income tax will be the key lever in the administration program to balance the state's budget expected to reach $1,650,000 for 1955-57.

Pledged To Wop Salse Tax

That levy has figured in reports from the governor's tax conferences since they started weeks ago. Under the reported plan, there would be a tax of one percent on individual incomes and unincorporated businesses with an exemption on the first $1,000 of income. The rate would be two percent on dividends, capital gains and similar income.

A state income tax, such as never has been imposed at the state level, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other local units have a similar tax. The state constitution prohibits a graduated income tax such as is imposed by the federal government.

Former Gov. John S. Fine sought approval of a flat income tax in 1951. It passed the House but was defeated by a group of Republicans in the Senate. The 1953 Legislature adopted the state's one percent sales tax which Leader is pledged to drop Aug. 31.

Cancels News Conferences
The governor cancelled his scheduled news conferences with Capitol correspondents Thursday to work on details of his tax program. That included conferences with representatives of the press.

CHOU FLIES IN SECRECY TO RED INDONESIA MEET

By NOEL LAZARD

RANGOON, Burma (U-P) — Flown in under a blanket of official secrecy, Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai arrived in Burma Thursday enroute to the Asian-African conference at Bandung, Indonesia.

Only a handful of Burmese officials, the Soviet ambassador and a few newsmen were on hand at Kingalad Airport as the big air India Skymaster roared in with Chou's 21-man party. Burmese air force jets escorted the airliner from the Chinese border.

Burmese Premier U Nu and Foreign Minister Sao Hkun greeted Chou as he descended from the plane.

Chou's party included Vice Premier Chen Yi, Foreign Trade Minister Ye Chee and Vice Foreign Minister Chu Han-fu. Also aboard was Indonesia's ambassador to Peiping, A. Mononutu, who is accompanying the Red Premier to Bandung.

Four hours after his arrival, Chou lunched with U Nu at the mansion of Burmese President Ba U. The two premiers continued their talks into the afternoon at the Premier's residence. Presumably they were discussing the Bandung conference.

The Chinese premier, originally scheduled to arrive Wednesday, delayed his flight from Kunming for 24 hours.

The unexplained delay came after Peiping radio accused "agents" of the United States and Nationalist China of sabotaging an earlier plane carrying Red Chinese delegates to Bandung. The plane went down in the South China Sea Monday with 19 aboard. Three Indians — two crewmen and an engineer — were rescued.

U.S. officials in Washington and Hong Kong, the plane's last stopping point before it crashed, dismissed the sabotage charge as "utter nonsense." The British Foreign Office termed the crash an "unfortunate accident."

Chou and U Nu will be joined here tomorrow by India's Prime Minister Nehru and Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, who have been meeting in New Delhi. All four plan to leave together Saturday in the Indian plane for Bandung.

entatives of various groups, chambers of commerce, industry, farmers and labor.

Hodges said the governor met with his usual conference group of legislative leaders and tax advisors for two hours at the Executive Mansion yesterday. The governor also conferred with Richard W. Slocum, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Bulletin.

SALK VACCINE DATA WILL GO BEHIND CURTAIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The latest data on the Salk polio vaccine will be distributed by the government as a good will gesture to nations around the world, including those behind the Iron Curtain.

There was no plan to send any vaccine itself abroad, although Secretary of State Dulles announced he would explore the possibilities with other government officials.

The Commerce Department yesterday clamped an export embargo on the product. Officials held no hope there would be enough to send any abroad before 1957.

Report Goes To All
The State Department said Dulles planned to send copies of Tuesday's report giving a favorable appraisal of the Salk vaccine to the 75 American missions abroad.

These missions include embassies in Poland and Russia, which presumably would furnish copies to Communist nations like Red China, which this country does not recognize.

Dulles said the report on last summer's tests is being sent to countries "around the world so that they may have the benefit of this humanitarian research project as well as the information on the Salk formula itself."

MAN KILLED IN TUNNEL BLAZE

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—A big tractor-trailer truck caught fire Thursday in the Allegheny Tunnel on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Police said one man was killed trying to leap to safety. Another received minor burns.

William Cope, 41, of Easton, Pa., was pronounced dead on arrival at Somerset Community Hospital. He was employed as a helper on the truck.

The hospital said James J. Jarrell, 36, of Riegelsville, Pa., suffered minor burns on his hands and face. He was driving the big rig.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined. Police said the truck was not involved in a crash. The flames burst out as the truck neared the western portal of the nearly mile long tunnel. It is located about 23 miles west of the Bedford Interchange.

The blazing truck blocked traffic on both east and west bound lanes of the turnpike for nearly a half hour.

State police said Cope leaped from the blazing truck and fell under the rear wheels of the moving vehicle. Ownership of the truck has not been established.

John W. Tramburg Gets N. J. Office

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner Wednesday announced appointment of John W. Tramburg of Madison, Wis., as New Jersey commissioner of institutions and agencies.

Meyner told a news conference that Tramburg, now director of the Wisconsin State Department of Public Welfare, will take over his new job July 1. Tramburg will hold the $18,000-a-year post at the pleasure of the state Board of Control of Institutions and Agencies.

Tramburg succeeds Sanford Bates, who retired last July on his 70th birthday. The new commissioner was appointed by the state Board of Control with Meyner's approval. The appointment does not require confirmation by the state Senate.

BRIDGES SAYS DEMOCRATS ARE AFRAID OF IKE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said Thursday Democrats seem to be "very fearful" that President Eisenhower will run in 1956.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said:

"When they go to the lengths of building up a strawman and trying to knock him down a year and a half ahead of the voting, they must be very fearful that Eisenhower will be a candidate again, and I am very certain he will."

Bridges to a "strawman" was directed at Democratic Digest efforts to depict Eisenhower as an advocate of "government for the few" and as responsible for an "A. W. O. L.—administration without leadership."

The Digest, monthly publication of the Democratic National Committee, suggested Eisenhower might not be any more "invincible" in 1956 than former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was in 1948 when he lost to former President Truman.

The Digest listed several issues it said paralleled those of 1948, including taxes, farm prices, Taft-Hartley Act revision, economic and power-reclamation subjects. It said new issues included the Dixon-Yates power contract, school aid and highway programs.

Beyond that the Digest criticized what it called Eisenhower administration "bluffs" in the foreign field, the "numbers racket in the security field," unfulfilled "pie in the sky promises of 1952" and "confusion" among Cabinet officers.

GENERAL STRIKE IS THREATENED IN BIRMINGHAM

ATLANTA (AP)—A general strike loomed in Birmingham, Ala., today while troubled Southern governors and mayors called meetings in an effort to settle railroad telephone and railroad strikes costing the South millions of dollars and causing ever spreading violence.

Pickets appeared suddenly last night around the Giant Fairfield steel mill of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Division of the U. S. Steel Co., at Birmingham. It is the largest steel mill in the South and employs about 20,000 persons.

R. E. Farr, district director of the United Steel Workers of America (CIO) predicted that all operations at the plant would be halted in sympathy with striking telephone workers, members of the Communications Workers of America (CIO).

Farr said he expected every business in the city hiring CIO workers would feel the effects of the sympathy strike.

Governors To Meet

The possibility of a general strike in Birmingham came only a few hours after Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky scheduled an unprecedented meeting of Southern governors for Tuesday.

Wetherby called the session as chairman of the Southern Governors Conference "for the purpose of discussing a plan of action for the governors as a group to take to bring about a settlement of these controversies." It will be held in the office of Gov. Frank Clement at Nashville, Tenn.

At Miami, Fla., Mayor Abel Aronovitz sent telegrams to mayors of the two largest cities in states affected by the phone strike and asked them to attend a conference in Miami April 22-23.

Aronovitz said he wants the federal government to give up its authority to deny states the power to compel arbitration in utility strikes.

The telephone and rail strikes are now in their 33rd day. Af-

Livengood Leaves Authority Office

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, took over yesterday as secretary of the General State Authority, succeeding William S. Livengood Jr., internal affairs secretary.

Livengood resigned prior to the completion of his term May 3 because he said initial steps to a new authority bond issue had begun and he did not wish to leave the post in the middle of negotiations.

The secretary will be succeeded in the Internal Affairs post by Miss Genevieve Blatt, successful Democratic candidate in the November election.

At its meeting Wednesday, the GSA appointed a four-member committee to review the possibilities of a site for a proposed new state mental hospital in Delaware County.

The committee consists of former U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers; Charles R. Barber, auditor general; Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, and Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican floor leader.

MURDERERS GET 23RD RESPITE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader has granted the 23rd stay of execution for two Bucks County men convicted of murder in a 1948 holdup-killing at Feasterville.

Stays of execution were granted yesterday to Harry Zietz, 27, and Harold Foster, 30, who with David Darcy were sentenced to die for the slaying.

Zietz and Foster were scheduled for execution during the week beginning next Monday but Leader postponed the date until the week beginning June 27.

In a statement, the governor said he granted the respites because a stay of execution was ispected are the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and its subsidiaries in 14 states and the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. serving nine states.

sued for Darcy last week by the Federal Court of Appeals.

Zietz has an application pending before the state Pardons Board and his attorney is expected to present the case next month.

At the same time, Leader set the week beginning July 11 for the execution of Alphonse Larue, convicted in March, 1953, of the slaying of Mildred Walker in a Philadelphia home.

Larue's case was appealed to the State Supreme Court which upheld a lower court decision a month ago. A petition for re-argument was filed with the Supreme Court but was dismissed this week.

SAVES HIS BEER

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Engineer Charles Patterson saw an elderly man fall in front of his switch in the railroad yards and slammed on the emergency brake.

He got to the front of the engine in time to see Homer Willis, 81, crawl from beneath the cow catcher, brush off his clothes, pick up the case of beer he was carrying when he stumbled and walk off.
